Remembrance Day Service

Attended by War Veterans and New Recruits—Main Address by Sidney C. Short—Old and Young Soldiers Parade on Street After Service

The 21st anniversary of the signing of the Armistice of the World War was appropriately observed in Coleman by a public service in the Community hall, sponsored by the Canadian Legion, and presided over by Mr. George Kellock.

World War veterans and recruits for the new active service army of Canada marched in parade to the martial music of the Citizens Band. Girl Guides and Brownies under Mrs. R. H. Campbell, Miss Winnifred Dunlop and Brownie Captain Patricia Emmerson joined in the procession and attended the service.

Mr. Kellock in his remarks as chairman stated the world was in more or less confusion, and it seemed that as long as there is a conflict of ideals there will be wars, no matter how we strive for the ideal of peace on earth. It appeared that every generation must fight its own battle.

But under our form of government we enjoyed privileges which many failed to appreciate. He contrasted the system of a totalitarian form of government with ours. In the former one man is the supreme authority; in our Democratic system leadership of the Opposition is paid to criticize the government, while representatives are elected by popular vote.

The main address was given by Mr. Sidney C. Short, a veteran of the Great War. He remarked that though we were celebrating the signing of the Armistice, the day came to be known in later years as Remembrance Day. It may be a day of honoring the dead, but yet how true it is that it was only an Armistice that was signed on Nov. 11, 1918.

The address held the close attention of the gathering and referring to the new army which will, in the words of the late Col. John McCrea, "take up our quarrel with the foe," the speaker stated:

"And when they see those vast cemeteries, they will know more than ever before that this business of fighting for freedom is not just an idle gesture—it is a tangible thing—a real thing, and something that must be done if we are to maintain our identity as an empire, and to retain that code of life which we all hold so dear.

Their hearts will be lifted, and they will not shrink from duty, nor be afraid of death, for they will be in noble company, a company of men who have found eternal peace. And as that new

Herald Receives Award

This trophy was awarded to the Herald for editorial page excellence at the annual convention of the Alberta Division of the Canadian Weekly Newspapers Association in Edmonton in October. Provided by donations of Alberta weekly publishers to perpetuate the memory of the late H. G. McCrea, founder of the Herald and secretary of the Association for eleven years, until his death in July, 1937, the Herb McCrea Memorial Trophy will be competed for annually among Alberta weekly newspapers.

army approaches the graves of the old and stand on that hallowed ground, we would ask them to pass on this message. "We have not forgotten them, their glory shall never fade, nor shall the years condemn, and for a consoling thought for ourselves let us always remember that so long as they are not forgotten, they still live."

St. Paul's church choir, under the direction of Dr. C. Rose, led the singing, a marked improvement in the service over former years, and their singing of the words of Longfellow's "Sleep, Soldier, Sleep" was very effective and in keeping with the spirit of the service.

Roll call of Coleman's war dead, by W. H. Garner, the sounding of "The Last Post" and "Reveille" by James Lowe and the singing of the national anthem brought to a close Coleman's observance of the signing of the Armistice 21 years ago.

Red Cross Meeting on Monday

A public meeting of the Red Cross Society will be held in the council chamber, Monday evening, Nov. 20, at 8 o'clock. A report of the money raised in the campaign for membership will be given. As Mr. Pattinson is resigning owing to ill-health, a new president will be elected. The advisability of holding a community entertainment for the Coleman soldiers will be discussed, and it is hoped all those who have opinions on the matter will be present.—L. G.

Canadians Play Turner Valley at Lethbridge Saturday

One of Canadians' two home games to be played at Lethbridge, owing to lack of ice at Coleman, will be played on Saturday evening when the locals oppose Elmer Piper's Turner Valley Oilers.

Returning from a week-end of practice at Lethbridge's artificial ice arena on Tuesday evening, Coach Keats released the line-up he expects to start against the Oilers. It is: Goal, Wolfe; defence, Barneki and Sprout; forwards Sanderson, Fraser, Strik, Redisky, Luney, Gruhn; McKillop, Sheppard, Dunn. The teams can only dress twelve men each and it is likely Sheppard may see action on both the forward line and defence.

It is hoped to obtain sufficient names so that a special train to Lethbridge may be chartered. Names should be given to W. J. Taylor, C.P.R. agent. Many have made arrangements to motor to motor to boost their favorites.

Fred Founds and Gordon Nurcombe, Coleman bank clerks, will probably be in Lethbridge arena box office on Saturday.

Slackers In War Aid

Of all the reasons some give for not supporting the Red Cross campaign, the most selfish is, "Oh, the Red Cross never did anything for me." Who cares for the wounded and helps to equip and man the great military hospitals? The truth is, there are all too many who haven't the spirit to give. They enjoy the benefits of democracy, far from war's alarms and hardships, but fail to appreciate them by giving a dollar to the Red Cross. There should be some white feathers handed around by canvassers as well as membership cards.

Red Cross canvassers in Coleman report ready response to their calls among the Polish and Italian people, most of whom welcomed them and subscribed for membership.

Fine Concert Pleases Large Audience

Last night's concert directed by Dr. C. Rose was indeed creditable to all who took part, demonstrating the high quality of local talent in vocal and instrumental music. Selections from several of the best composers were given in a style not often heard outside of the cities where there is a much wider circle of music lovers. Appreciation is expressed for the assistance by visiting artists, including Mrs. Gordon Steeves, Mrs. R. Pinkney, Mrs. T. J. Costigan and Mr. Gordon Finley, brilliant violinist of Cranbrook.

Time does not permit a detailed report on the various numbers of the program, which included vocal solos, group numbers respectively by ladies and gentlemen, and violin selections. Mayor Pattinson addressed the gathering on behalf of the Red Cross Society, as president of the local branch, and to which part of the proceeds of the concert were given.

Left For Victoria To-day

Mayor and Mrs. George Pattinson left this morning by auto to spend the winter months in Victoria, where it is hoped, the change will benefit Mr. Pattinson, who has been in rather poor health recently.

Silver Wedding Anniversary in East Coleman

To celebrate the silver wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Pieronek, of Burma, a supper party was held at the home of their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Chuchla, at which were present among other relatives their daughter Rosalind of Cranbrook and Frank of Burma, Mr. Pieronek came from Poland 30 years ago, and was married in Coleman three years later. They lived here for several years while Mr. Pieronek was employed at International mine, and moved to their farm at Burma 18 years ago. About 50 guests were at the party and from the family a dinnerware set was presented. Friends presented a silver clock. Greetings were received from Mrs. Pieronek's brother, Walter Zurek, of Chicago, who also lived here several years ago.

Observance at Frank

The Remembrance Day service at the Village of Frank under the direction of Reeve Captain Ed. Donkin was attended by the Bellevue branch of the Canadian Legion, and the West Canadian Collieries Band. The prayers and religious portions of the service were taken part in by Rev. R. Upton, Captain Watson of the Salvation Army, and Mr. McGee of Bellevue.

Mrs. Allan Turner, a war widow of Bellevue, laid the wreath on the cenotaph, as Mrs. Dunlop, who had performed this service with her late husband for many years, was indisposed this year. They had four sons killed in the war.

Mail Parcels Early

Overseas parcels should be sent during the coming week. Ship sailings are uncertain. Silk articles must not be enclosed with letters to Great Britain. A regulation governs the amount of tea and tobacco for export to Britain. Make enquiries before mailing, also read regulations for overseas mail, posted in lobby. Ordinary parcel post service as usual. If in doubt consult Postmaster Graham.

Stores Criticized For Using Trucks

Mineworkers Point Out That Railroads Purchase Coal Which Provides Employment — "We Dig Coal, Not Gasoline," Is Contention.

Complaint has been voiced by mineworkers against merchants using trucks instead of shipping in goods by rail. The point is that mineworkers get their living by digging coal, and the railroads are the biggest purchasers of coal from the mines of the Crows Nest Pass.

Note has been taken of trucks frequently unloading goods at some stores, despite the fact having been pointed out that by shipping goods in by truck, storekeepers are doing their bit towards decreasing employment for the very people who buy their goods from those stores.

There are some stores, however, who use the railroads 100 per cent. to bring in goods, and it is the good example they set which meets with the approval of the workers who depend on the coal industry for their livelihood. The Board of Trade has repeatedly stressed the shortsightedness of merchants using trucks. Gasoline and trucking companies take money from the community; they help to decrease employment for mineworkers, and storekeepers who use trucks should realize that they are helping to commit business suicide by such methods.

Mineworkers notice these things, and voice their opinions accordingly. Their attitude is aptly summed up in the expression—"We dig coal, not gasoline."

Tenders for a new 3-ton truck for town work from Sentinel Motors, Coleman Motors and The Motordrome were considered by the council, and that of Sentinel Motors was accepted at $1725, less the trade-in value of the truck now in use, at $275. Delivery in December.

Why Canada Fights

Canada has allied herself with Great Britain and France in the fight to crush Hitlerism and all that Hitlerism stands for, in the hope that as an outcome of the conflict peace and security for all nations may be guaranteed for a long time to come.

The foregoing in a general way sums up the average Canadian's reply to the question "Why are we in this war?"

The reply may run up the reasons in a very general way, but it is essential that Canadians understand specifically and remind themselves constantly of the reason for the necessity of crushing Hitlerism and this can best be done by a careful and analytical review of the events of the past six years in Europe and Hitler's record of broken promises.

This has been very ably set forth by the London Times and reprinted in pamphlet form under the title: "The Grammar of Aggression", in calendar form. A summary of excerpts of speeches made by Herr Hitler as Chancellor of the German Reich, combined with his various acts of aggression during the period under review constitute an indictment so clear that one can readily understand why war was inevitable.

Submitted in brief form the following extracts from Hitler's speeches and his contrasting actions tell a story which cannot be controverted:

Berlin, Feb. 10, 1933—The first and best point of the Government's programme is that we won't lie and we won't swindle.

Berlin, May 17, 1933—The German people have no thought of invading any country.

Oct. 14, 1933—Germany left the League of Nations.

Berlin, Oct. 24, 1933—There are Germans and Poles in Europe, and they ought to live together in agreement. The Poles cannot think of Europe without the Germans and the Germans cannot think of Europe without the Poles.

Berlin, Nov. 10, 1933—When has the German people ever broken its word?

The Rights Of Others

Berlin, Jan. 13, 1934—The assertion that the German Reich plans to coerce the Austrian State is absurd and cannot be substantiated or proved. . . . The assertion of the Government that from the side of the Reich an attack would be undertaken or planned I must emphatically reject. . . . The German Reich is always ready to hold out a hand for the free will of Austrian Germans. . . . After the Saar question has been settled the German Government is ready to accept not only the letter but the spirit of the Locarno pact.

March 16, 1935—Germany announced conscription.

Berlin, May 21, 1935—Both we National-Socialists and the Bolsheviks are convinced that there is a gulf between us which can never be bridged.

. . . So far as ever this Bolshevikism draws Germany into its clutches we are the deadliest and most fanatical enemies. . . . Germany neither intends nor wishes to interfere in the internal affairs of Austria, or to annex Austria, or to conclude an Anschluss.

March 7, 1936—Germany reoccupied the Rhineland and denounced Locarno.

Berlin, March 7, 1936—After three years I believe that I can regard the struggle for German equality as concluded to-day. I believe, moreover, that thereby the first and foremost reason for our withdrawal from European collective collaboration has ceased to exist. We have no territorial demands to make in Europe.

Nuremberg, Sept. 13, 1936—We see in Bolshevism a bestial, mad doctrine which is a threat to us. . . . These are two worlds. In Bolshevist Russia there is devastation, grim murder and ruin. Here is laughter, happiness and beauty. . . .

Berlin, Jan. 30, 1937—The period of so-called surprises is now over.

Berlin, Feb. 20, 1938—The Polish State respects the national conditions in this country, and Danzig and Germany respect Polish rights. Thus it has been possible to find the way to an understanding which, emanating from Danzig, in spite of the assertions of many mischief makers, has succeeded in removing all friction between Germany and Poland, and made it possible to work together in true amity.

The Last Demand

March 11, 1938—Germany invaded Austria.

Berlin, Sept. 26, 1938—The Sudetenland is the last territorial claim which I have to make in Europe. . . . I have assured Mr. Chamberlain, and I emphasize it now, that when this problem is solved Germany has no more territorial problems in Europe. I have further assured him that at the moment when Czechoslovakia has solved its other problems—that is, when the Czechs shall have come to an understanding with their other minorities—I shall not be interested in the Czech State any more, and that so far as I am concerned, I can guarantee it.

Berchtesgaden, Jan. 1, 1939—In general we have but one wish—that in the coming year we may be able to make our contribution to this general pacification of the whole world.

Berlin, Jan. 30, 1939—Only the war mongers think there will be a war. I think there will be a long period of peace.

March 15, 1939—Germany seized Czechoslovakia.

March 21, 1939—Germany annexed Memel.

Berlin, April 28, 1939—The Czech nation, with the sum total of its skill and ability, its industry, its diligence, its love of its native soil and of its own national heritage, deserves our respect. . . . That which the best and wisest Czechs have struggled for decades to attain is, as a matter of course, granted to this people in the National-Socialist German Reich—namely, the right to their own nationality and the right to foster this nationality and to revive it.

Aug. 23, 1939—Germany signed a pact with Russia.

Sept. 1, 1939—German invaded Poland.

Berlin, Sept. 1, 1939—I will not war against women and children. I have ordered my air force to restrict itself to attacks on military objectives. The bombing of Polish open towns began on the first day of the war.

Sept. 3, 1939—The Athenia was sunk.

Shining, as a sport, is of fairly recent origin. As a means of transportation it antedates written history.

Shopping Is Difficult

Permit Is Required For Purchase Of Clothing In Germany

If you were in Germany-at-war and wanted to buy a pair of socks, don't think you could simply enter a men's furnishing store and buy socks at a price and color suited to your needs.

If you, milady, felt you needed an extra pair of "undies", don't think the saleslady at a dry goods store would serve you without further ado. In either case you would be asked, "Where is your 'bezugsschein'?" It has become a magic word.

It is a certificate entitling the holder to buy a stated article and sometimes it is hard to persuade a hard-boiled official that one needs new socks or underwear.

All over the country and in every city at numerous places, there are "war economy offices." If the officials can be persuaded of the absolute need of the article in question, he will issue a "bezugsschein" or authority to buy, which is taken up by the shopkeeper where the purchase is made.

So long as a man can call two pairs of socks his own, he must do so tall explaining before he is given permission to purchase still another pair.

Owners of restaurants are also frequent visitors to the local or district war economy office. They must be able to demonstrate that, despite unusual care, the wear and tear of their serviettes and table clothes has been such that replacement is essential for keeping up the good name of the establishment.

Hospitals are in a preferred class. The authorities realize that in wartime it is more essential than ever that utmost cleanliness prevail. Hence hospitals find no difficulty in obtaining "bezugsschein" for all the textiles of various kinds they may need.

Will Stay In London

Princess Louise Is Alone In House With Old Servants

Alone in her 98-roomed home in Kensington, Palace sits Princess Louise, Duchess of Argyll, eldest living child of Queen Victoria. Although she is now in her 92nd year, she has decided that she will not leave London even if bombs rain on the city.

The Princess remains alone with her old servants, visited only by a few of her closest friends.

Her household is administered with the utmost simplicity; many of the rooms have been closed and draped in dust sheets for economy.

Around her are the pictures she has painted, the sculptures she has modelled, the furniture which Queen Victoria chose for her nearly fifty years ago.

There is no array of sandbags and no gummed paper on the windows at Kensington Palace. Dark blue blinds used during the last war have been put up for the blackout.

The "shelter" is a long underground tunnel near the kitchen.

The Princess insists on one air raid precaution—as soon as a warning is given a member of her household goes out into the road which runs by the Princess' front door and turns off the Palace gas supply.

Secret Treaties

Britain Will Not Enter Into Any Treaty Of This Nature

Britain will enter no secret treaties which might prejudice the chances of a harmonious peace when the war is over, Richard Butler, under-secretary for foreign affairs, indicated in the House of Commons.

Commander Oliver Locker Lampson, independent, asked whether the government would refrain from entangling secret treaties such as those which prevented "fairer understanding after the last war."

Mr. Butler replied: "It is not the intention of His Majesty's government to take any step which in their opinion would prevent the attainment of a satisfactory settlement on the conclusion of hostilities."

Italy entered the first Great War on the side of the Allies in 1915 after the secret treaty of London which promised her a share of any colonial possessions taken from the enemy. Alleged failure to carry out this treaty has been the basis of Fascist agitation for colonial concessions from France.

More Bibles Sold

The Gideons ordered 250,000 new Bibles, the largest number in the forty-year history of the society, for placement in hotels, schools, hospitals, and jails. Andrew Wycenbeck, a member of the Executive Committee, said the European war had stimulated interest in the Bible.

Many Animal Refugees

Pedigreed Horses And Dogs Sent To America From Europe

Refugees from the war, pedigreed horses and dogs valued by European shippers at more than $1,000,000, are finding a haven in North America. Transportation officials at New York said all records for such incoming cargoes have been broken since the war started. Horse and dog lovers have been shipping them to this continent to save the animals from destruction or the breeds from deterioration.

King George Sends A Reply To The Recent Peace Offer

London.—King George sent a carefully drafted reply to the peace offer of Queen Wilhelmina of The Netherlands and King Leopold of the Belgians which, in effect, stated "it is all up to the German government."

In identical messages to the monarchs of the lowland countries, the King pledged that the British and Dominion governments would give their "most earnest consideration" to any German proposals "of such a character as to afford a real prospect of achieving the Allied war aims of redeeming Europe from the 'perpetually recurring fear of German aggression'."

The King's reply was made in a personal note to the queen of The Netherlands and King Leopold, who Nov. 7 offered their good offices to Great Britain, France and Germany to work for restoration of Europe's peace.

Great Britain's war aim was set forth by the King as the redemption of Europe from "the perpetually recurring fear of German aggression so as to enable the peoples of Europe to preserve their independence and liberties."

President Lebrun of France, speaking for the French government and people, sent his note at the same time. In a few words he indicated that peace would only be possible if Germany can give effective guarantees that it will respect the freedom of all nations and keep its word.

Pope Pius, in a telegram to King Leopold of Belgium, expressed "highest appreciation" for the offer to mediate the war by the Belgian monarch and Queen Wilhelmina of The Netherlands.

He said he prayed that "a true and durable peace would result."

Delegates Visit France

Dominion Embassies Are Greeted By General Gamelin

Paris.—Embassies of the British commonwealth of nations — the Mother Country, Canada, Australia, New Zealand, South Africa and India — visited France to learn first hand about the progress of the war. The distinguished party, headed by Dominion Secretary Anthony Eden, included T. A. Crerar, Canadian minister of mines and resources; R. G. Casey, Australian minister for supplies; Peter Fraser, New Zealand education minister; Colonel Denys Reitz, South African minister for native affairs, and Sir Muhammad Zafrulla Khan, trade specialist on the executive council of the government of India.

Awaiting the delegation on the Allied high command chateau steps was a smart, athletic, khaki-clad figure of a man who almost ran down the steps to greet them with outstretched hand. It was General Maurice Gamelin, France's chief of staff on whose shoulders rests the responsibility of the Allied war strategy.

Would Ban Papers

Toronto.—The Ontario attorney-general's department will issue an interim injunction restraining the publication of five Toronto periodicals classed as "filthy literature."

British Convoy Plan Provides Protection For Merchant Vessels

London.—Nearly 2,500 Allied merchant vessels are voyaging under protection of the British convoy system, according to information from the dominions office. Only eight ships in convoy have been destroyed by enemy action, the office said, pointing to this fact and the reduction of merchant ship losses since the first week of the war as evidence of the system's efficiency.

The best method of protecting maritime trade remains the destruction of attacking enemy forces, the dominions office informant said, remarking that efficiency of the British anti-submarine forces is proven not only by heavy German submarine losses "but also by the fact that the German submarines have been forced to cruise increasingly far away from the focal area of trade." The number of submarines inflicting serious damage has thus been greatly reduced.

Will Be No Competition

Britain And France To Co-ordinate War Purchases In U.S.

Washington.—Great Britain and France will co-ordinate their war purchases in United States, eliminating competition between them, the British embassy announced.

It is estimated unofficially the Allies are ready to place $1,000,000,000 in war orders here in the near future.

The embassy said with regard to co-ordination with France: "A later announcement will be made regarding the necessary arrangements to secure close co-ordination of British and French purchases in the United States."

The embassy thus disclosed a policy in direct contrast with the course followed by the two Allies at the beginning of the first Great War. At that time they bid against each other for U.S. war supplies and raw materials and consequently ran up prices.

The British found that, at times, they were even competing with the dominions for U.S. supplies.

Appointment of Arthur B. Purvis, president Montreal industrialist, as director-general of British war purchases in United States, was announced at Ottawa by the British purchasing mission which has been in Ottawa since early September.

Want British Seamen

U.S. Lines Would Man Vessels With Old Country Sailors

London.—The United States lines advertised for British seamen and officers to serve on vessels sailing between the United States, France and Great Britain.

"Vacancies exist for deck officers, engineers, electricians, machinists and chief stewards," the advertisement said.

The United States Lines' London office said the new American neutrality law might cause a temporary dislocation of service, but that it expected to be able to announce shortly a schedule of freight sailings and to make an announcement concerning passenger services now cancelled.

Needs More Space

National Defence Department Will Be Given Extra Office Room

Ottawa.—Demands of the national defence department for expanded space because of war needs has reached the new post office building on Sparks street, now nearing completion. The department will be given the upper floors of the new ultra-modern building. The ground and basement floors will be utilized by the postal department.

Wants Entire Output

London.—Britain is trying to work out an agreement to obtain Brazil's entire output of meat for the duration of the war. The British ministry of foods has begun conversations towards that end with representatives of Brazilian export houses.

Military Hospital

Work Started On Canada's Hospital Being Built In England

Toronto.—Work has been started at Taplow, Buckinghamshire, on Canada's first military hospital in England. It was announced by the Canadian Red Cross which is financing its construction and equipment. It will be known as "No. 1 Base Hospital."

Under a British committee of the Canadian Red Cross headed by Rt. Hon. R. B. Bennett and Sir Edward Peacock, Canadian-born British banker, plans were approved two weeks ago for the temporary building which will provide a 300-bed hospital, operating rooms and other facilities.

Cost of the fully-equipped structure will be about $250,000, about one-fifth the estimated cost of a permanent hospital of the same capacity. It will be built on the Cliveden estate of Lord Astor at Taplow, where the Canadian Red Cross built a military hospital during the Great War. Taplow is about 30 miles west from the centre of London.

Construction of the base hospital is not related to the offer made by the Massey Foundation, through Hon. Vincent Massey, Canadian high commissioner in London, of a convalescent hospital-home to cost approximately $1,000,000. This offer is still under consideration by the Dominion government.

As soon as the hospital is completed it will be turned over to the Canadian army medical corps which will operate it.

Ratify Agreement

Anglo-Franco-Turkish Mutual Assistance Pact Is Pledged

Ankara.—The Turkish national assembly has unanimously ratified the Anglo-Franco-Turkish mutual assistance pact.

The pact, signed at Ankara, Oct. 19, pledges Anglo-French assistance to Turkey in the event of aggression against her or the outbreak of war in the Mediterranean leading to Turkish involvement.

Turkey pledged itself to aid Britain and France should they be involved in a Mediterranean war or in operations required by the Anglo-French pledge to Roumania and Greece.

Turkey was exempted from any obligation to take up arms against Soviet Russia.

For Training Project

1,500 Training Planes May Be Needed In Canada

Ottawa.—A spokesman for the British war purchasing commission disclosed that an order for several hundred training planes will be placed in the United States by the British government. The planes will be delivered to Canada and will be used to instruct war pilots under the Empire training scheme now being formulated at Ottawa. It is estimated that about 1,500 aircraft will be ordered from Canadian and United States manufacturers for use in the training project.

Britain Receives Russian Timber

London.—Minister of Supply Edward Burgin announced that six cargoes of Russian timber already have arrived in England under the Anglo-Soviet barter agreement. Britain will send the Soviets rubber and tin in return. He said Britain has chartered 29 ships to transport timber from Russia.

LABOR ENVOY FROM BRITAIN

Fight In Clouds

German Bomber Crashes From A Height Of 30,000 Feet

London.—The Royal Air Force claimed their second victim in France, once again a German Dornier reconnaissance bomber, after a fierce engagement behind the Maginot line. The bomber crashed in the centre of a village and all three of the crew were killed.

The successful British pilot was the first from a dominion to bring down a German plane in France. Aged 21, he comes from New Zealand. His victim made a game fight of it. After the fighter, climbing underneath the tail of the German plane, had lost its first burst of machine-gun fire, it had to drop when the enemy replied.

Changing tactics the young New Zealander got above the bomber and let him have the balance of his fire. The bomber went down in a slow spiral from a height of 30,000 feet. It buried its nose in the village green to a depth of 10 feet and parts of bodies and wreckage were strewn over an area of 100 square yards.

A barn was set alight when the plane caught fire and two women were injured.

Stringent Medical Test

40,000 Members Of Canadian Active Force To Be Examined

Ottawa.—A stringent medical test faces more than 40,000 members of the Canadian Active Service Force in a weeding-out process which will be carried out across Canada, the defence department announced.

The men will be X-rayed for possible chest trouble and each X-ray plate will be examined by an expert radiologist and then filed away in department records.

The weeding-out process, to be conducted by the Royal Canadian Medical Corps, also will involve special tests for diabetes, nephritis and other kidney diseases. Ear specialists will examine the men for possible ear trouble.

This re-examination was necessary, it was said, because, at the outbreak of war, it was impossible to implement the plan of a thorough medical examination in the 21 days permitted under the mobilization scheme.

Current Wheat Crop Is Third Largest In Canadian History

Ottawa.—The total Canadian wheat crop of 1939 is estimated at 478,965,000 bushels, or 29,507,000 bushels more than the first estimate on Sept. 8, the Dominion bureau of statistics said in its second estimate of the yields of principal grain crops in Canada.

Based on reports from crop correspondents' returns received at the end of October, the 1939 yield compared with the 350,010,000 bushels produced last year. It was approximately equal to the 1927 crop of 479,665,000 bushels, which has hitherto held undisturbed second-place in the annals of Canadian wheat production.

Greatest Canadian wheat production was in 1928 when the crop reached 568,720,000 bushels.

The increase almost wholly reflected a higher appraisal of the wheat crop in the prairie provinces which is now placed at 452,000,000 bushels, an increase of 30,000,000 over the first estimate.

Manitoba's production is now estimated at 63,000,000 bushels, a rise of 4,000,000; Saskatchewan's 239,000,000, an increase of 21,000,000; and Alberta's 15,900,000, or 5,000,000 more than the September estimate.

Oats production was placed at 385,930,000 bushels compared with the 1938 yield of 371,382,000, when it was indicated yields would be greater in Quebec, Ontario, Manitoba, and Alberta. Barley production at 103,226,000 bushels showed a slight gain over the 1938 yield of 102,242,000 bushels.

Both fall and spring rye showed small reductions with total production placed at 15,307,000 bushels compared with 10,988,000 bushels last year. Mixed grains jumped to 44,350,000 bushels from 29,161,000. Beans and buckwheat were little changed from their first estimates with corn for husking showing a slight increase. Peas production is now estimated at 1,288,000 bushels; beans, 1,588,000; buckwheat, 6,824,000, and corn for husking, 8,087,000 bushels.

Average yields per acre in bushels were estimated as follows, with 1938 figures in brackets: Wheat, 17.9 (13.5); oats, 30.2 (28.5); barley, 23.7 (23.0); rye, 13.9 (14.8); peas, 16.9 (17.0); beans, 21.3 (22.1); buckwheat, 20.4 (18.8); mixed grains, 36.4 (33.8); corn for husking, 44.2 (42.7).

Estimate for durum wheat in Manitoba was placed at 9,000,000 bushels, unchanged from September, while that of Saskatchewan was reduced slightly from 2,300,000 bushels.

War Gift

South Africa Offers Thousand Head Of Sheep To United Kingdom

London.—The ministry of information announced 1,000 head of sheep have been offered as a war gift to the United Kingdom by the residents of the Jansenville district in Cape Province, South Africa. The food ministry has accepted the gift.

The war office, through the Dominion office, has expressed appreciation for 1,000,000 cigarettes and other gifts which are among the first fruits of the £1,000,000 fund being raised by the mayor of Johannesburg to supply comforts for troops.

Reduce Penalty

Ottawa.—In the Canadian army, as in the British army, desertion, cowardice and sleeping on sentry duty no longer call for the death penalty, a defence department spokesman said. The death penalty remains as a maximum penalty for murder, mutiny and treachery.

Empire Training Scheme

Western Airports Best For Flying Says Mayor Of Prince Albert

Winnipeg.—Western airports would be more advantageous for the empire air training scheme than eastern airports because they have clearer flying weather. Mayor George Brock of Prince Albert, Sask., said in Winnipeg, when he passed through over Canadian National lines returning after requesting the Dominion government establish an airport under the scheme at Prince Albert.

Since the organizers of the scheme were working against time, they should consider air bases where the maximum number of flying hours could be obtained, he added.

Called It An Eyecore

Stockholm.—The Polish Telegraph agency reported Guston Burgum's statue of President Woodrow Wilson in Wilson park at Pomona, Poland, has been destroyed by the Germans as an "artistic eyecore."

Dutch Border Incident Heightens Concern In Holland And Belgium

Amsterdam.—A mysterious shooting incident on the Netherlands-German frontier at Venloo in which two persons may have been killed and several abducted into Germany was reported as the Netherlands began precautionary flooding of her vital "water line" defences.

One report of the clash was that two persons were killed. Another authorized version said only one person was injured. Both versions agreed several persons had been spirited across the border into Germany.

The incident heightened nervousness prevailing in this country and neighboring Belgium as a result of rumors of intensified German military activity on the Western Front. Belgian mobilization was raised to 600,000.

The Netherlands government cancelled all military leaves and recalled all men at present on furlough. The government met in an emergency session.

The government, which met under presidency of Premier Jan de Geer, adopted new measures to guard the country against any sudden coup.

The government press service issued the following statement in connection with the military leaves: "The government deems it inadvisable at the present time to weaken too much the defence forces. As a result periodic leaves cannot be granted for some time. Those who have gone on furlough, including those who departed recently, will have to report at their corps. Leaves for business purposes will be maintained."

A wide area was flooded through Utrecht provinces and another reaching eastward between the Maas and Waal rivers, the Netherlands' first line of defence.

Authorized persons said only that

"several persons" were involved in the border incident and that "it appears one was hurt and others taken over the German frontier." They acknowledged that versions differed so widely it is impossible to say at this moment what really happened.

They said an inquiry is under way. The government instructed the Dutch newspaper not to publish details of the border shooting. The action was considered an added indication of the potential seriousness of the affair.

Witnesses to the clash at the Venloo customs post, on the Netherlands southeastern frontier, said the shooting occurred on Netherlands soil after occupants of a German automobile alighted, crossed the frontier on foot and engaged occupants of a Netherlands machine near the customs barrier.

One of those said to have been killed was believed to be an occupant of the Netherlands car. The victims and several survivors from this vehicle were reported taken into Germany a few minutes after the shooting.

An attempt also was made to push the Netherlands automobile across the frontier but the barrier blocked its passage.

Venloo is opposite the German machine gun camp of Beem, near the top of the Maasrict "peninsula." As a neck of Netherlands territory which juts between Germany and Belgium.

The process of flooding sections of the Netherlands water defence line will require considerable time.

Official explanation of the extraordinary measures by the Netherlands and Belgium were lacking, but informed sources stressed the two countries believed their neutrality would be respected despite the reported German activities.

Notes of General Interest

Tom Uphill, Labor member in the B. C. Legislature, generally manages to catch the eye of the Press each session at Victoria. He caused a roar of laughter when he said he didn't know of any other country in the world where he could be elected—and the same might be said of many others.

A copy of the Whitehorse Star (not connected with whiskey of that name) came to The Journal by air mail. Published in the Yukon, having membership in Canadian Weekly Newspapers Association, it is a newsy sheet for a place so far north. There is a very thrilling letter in it from a young man, Godfrey Sansom, son of the White Pass & Yukon railroad agent at Whitehorse, who was on H.M.S. Courageous when it was torpedoed. He is an aviator in the Royal Air Force, and at the moment the ship was hit he was with three others passing the time playing a quiet game of cards. He floated around hanging onto a plank from the wreckage, and after about an hour in the water was picked up by a rescue steamer.

In The Star is advertised the Yukon Southern Airlines, return fare to Vancouver $165.00. Editor Horace E. Moore turns out a fine paper.

Councillor McDonald of Drumheller wants a clean-up of gambling houses in that city. He had been told that a certain rooming house in the centre of the city had become a bawdy house and bootlegging was going on in certain quarters.

Three important weekly newspapers of the Okanagan incurred a libel suit because they stated that a combine existed between certain wholesale houses to set the price paid to fruit growers. Investigation by F. A. Gregory, commissioner under the Combines Investigation Act, found that a combine within the meaning of the Act did exist between Dominion Fruit, Western Grocers, Lander Company and Sales Service. The report therefore vindicates the newspapers, who have rendered good service to their respective communities in helping to force an investigation. The freedom of the Press acts as a watch-dog quite often in the interests of the people. No wonder there exists those who would like to control it.

P. J. Dollan, Lord Provost of Glasgow, in replying to efforts made by "some friends, who believe they are still loyal to the cause of peace," replied in part: "Some of those now criticizing Mr. Chamberlain because he has screwed up courage to stand up against the dictatorships were his most bitter opponents because he did not use force to prevent the invasion of Spain, Austria and Czechoslovakia."

Jack McDonald, genial host of the Empire hotel, says it is remarkable how sixteen women can sit in at a bridge game, keep track of the cards, listen to the radio and to everyone else talking and still play the game. It is remarkable! Men couldn't do that.

Your local weekly newspaper is your best medium for advertising, for it employs people who live here and who not only pay taxes but contribute towards every appeal made by local institutions, besides giving free publicity to their activities. Keep your local printing office steadily working by giving your orders to The Journal, where you get really GOOD printed matter that is convincing in readability and appearance.

Sweaters for autumn suits are seen in every variety, with at least one model for every taste and purpose. The first model shown here is a hand-knit done in deep, rich brown. The weave is worked diagonally in front and straight in back and for the sleeves. Zipper front, collarless neckline and two slit pockets are other features. The second model, also hand-knit, has a band of purling in a fine stitch across the chest, through which is seen a contrasting ribbon tying in a bow centre front. It has short sleeves and a baby neck with fine purling outline.

Mostly "Ballyhoo"

First it was the Oxford Group; now it is Moral Rearmament that Dr. Frank Buchman is boosting. If these ballyhoo artists would devote their time to strengthening the various churches that for centuries have been trying to spread the Gospel of Jesus Christ, it would be more to the point than all this self-seeking notoriety which the promoters of these various movements appear to glory in.

No Hardsurfaced Highways in Alberta

Regarding the construction in Western Canada of higher priced pavements such as Portland cement concrete, the mileage to date is comparatively small. The latest edition of "The Highway and Motor Vehicle in Canada" gives the mileage of concrete roads in British Columbia as 46. There are 31 miles of this type in the Province of Manitoba and none as yet on the rural highways of Alberta or Saskatchewan.

Alberta's highway surfacing to date is of the "blotter" type, costing approximately $4500 per mile, states "Voice of Motor-dom," official paper of Alberta Motor Association. Alberta's tourist trade in 1938 was valued at five million dollars.

PREPARING FOR TOURIST TRAFFIC

Hundreds of thousands of dollars will be spent by northwest states next year to attract tourists, said D. E. C. Campbell, Alberta publicity director, when he returned from the Spokane convention of the Pacific Northwest Tourist Association. Mr. Campbell, who was Alberta's delegate, said that many of the States as well as British Columbia were represented at the convention. Due to war conditions having cut off all American tourist travel to Europe and Near Eastern vacation spots, a tremendous influx of summer visitors is expected in Canada and the west, according to international travel authorities. British Columbia is preparing for this new revenue by spending $65,000 for tourist publicity in order to attract business to the province. Mr. Campbell reported delegates at the extreme point of travel for many tourists from the east. Publicizing of the Banff-Jasper highway and the Trans-Canada highway were items of discussion, too, he said.

Miss Marion Ferry was bridesmaid and the bridegroom's brother, Mr. Dan Lunn, was best man. Following the wedding a reception was held at the home of the bridegroom's parents, and the bridal couple left for a trip to the coast cities. They will reside in Quesnel.

Many of Norma's friends here will join in good wishes. Since leaving here she has been on the nursing staff at Quesnel hospital.

Married at Kalispel, Mont., Nov. 14, Maise, fourth daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. Gillespie, to Mr. William Tucker, of Vancouver. Attendants were Elveno Fontana and Emma Rogers, and matron of honor, Mrs. David Nevay. They will live in Vancouver.

MISCELLANEOUS

The best in quality and values are obtained from Journal advertisers. Everyone in the family reads the "Hometown" newspaper.

It is the bright spot in the week's local news, eagerly looked for, carefully read, and in many cases sent to distant relatives and friends.

While Technocrat Howard Scott had an audience of nearly 500 people in Cranbrook, he had only 300 people at his meeting at Spokane, a city of 125,000 population, and while The Courier devoted a full report of his meeting, the Spokesman-Review gave him only about a fourth of a column. All of which goes to show that these fantastic schemes that are promulgated from time to time find more fertile ground for propagation out in the sticks than in the more populous centres. — Cranbrook Courier.
